These awards celebrate the organizations that prioritize a people-centered culture and give employees a voice that enables them to meet today's ever-evolving technological, social, and economic challenges.

Of the 4,917 companies in the region invited to participate, 171 companies were selected based only on employee feedback gathered by The Inquirer's research partner Energage, LLC, a leading provider of technology-based employee engagement tools. Employees completed an anonymous survey in December 2022 that measured essential facets of workplace culture, including company leadership, career opportunities, workplace flexibility, compensation, benefits, and the impact company policies have on innovation and morale. Companies were grouped into three categories, small, mid-sized, and large. F.A. Davis was counted among the top 52 midsize companies with 150-499 employees.
